

SEXUAL EXPLOITATION & TRAFFICKING FACT SHEET

THE ISSUE by the numbers

- Human trafficking is a crime and considered a form of modern-day slavery.
- Over two million people are trafficked each year (Stop Trafficking Today).
- The average age of a victim of human trafficking is 11-14. Homelessness and poverty makes an individual vulnerable to forced/coerced situations (Stop Trafficking Today).
- 40% of victims of trafficking were recruited by an immediate family member thus validating the need for additional beds as family reconciliation is often not advisable or possible.
- A recent study showed the total number of beds available for trafficking victims nationwide was just under 700, with 400 of those beds in California alone. The number of beds being identified as being available for women with children was less than two-dozen.
- Every month, 7,200 men purchase sex from a minor, accounting for more than 8,000 sex acts. Another study by Georgia Cares claims that more than 90 percent of Domestic Minor Sex Trafficking victims in Georgia were enrolled in school at the time of their exploitation.
- According to The Shapiro Group, which conducted research on prostitution and sexual exploitation, 65 percent of men who purchase sex with female children in metro Atlanta live in suburban areas.
